

Cowell Coffee Shop: Turning Food Insecurity Into Food Independence

Authors: Leila Ghazvini, Sage Hirsch, Alaina Lindsey, Grace Reynolds

Faculty Sponsor: Damian Parr

Brooks Schmitt, Nessa Fakrai and Francis Ge with autumn paella

Purpose

Cowell Coffee Shop (CCS) is dedicated to promoting food sovereignty for UCSC students by providing them with free, nutritional, sustainable, and culturally relevant food for approximately 40 hours each week.

Methods

CCS sources their food locally from the on campus farm and other local produce distributors. CCS instills fundamental kitchen skills that allows students to participate in creating meals that are seasonal, complex, and culturally significant.

Results

CCS is an integral part of campus. Many students rely on CCS for fresh healthy food. Those who work at CCS are welcomed into the learning environment of the kitchen which strengthens their food independence.

Conclusion

Moving forward, CCS will continue to utilize its teaching methods in the kitchen and across outreach programs that strengthen communities vulnerable to food insecurity.

Fish tacos with cilantro and mango on a hand pressed corn tortilla

Ramen with fresh chard, carrots, hand made kimchi dumplings, Fogline farm chicken, and coddled egg

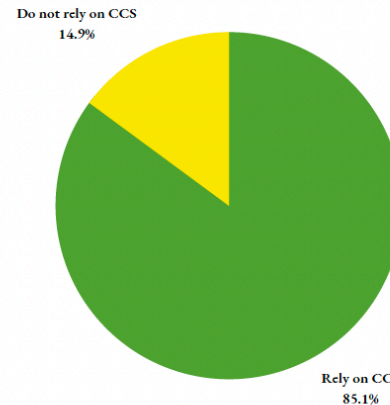

"Many production kitchens use a french brigade hierarchy. This is a rigid structure in which each person has a specific role that they focus on. The Cowell Coffee Shop differs, as it instead prioritizes learning. Having a kitchen centered around education has impacted almost every facet of our operations."
-Vivian Gerstein Student Employee

Student Payroll Budget

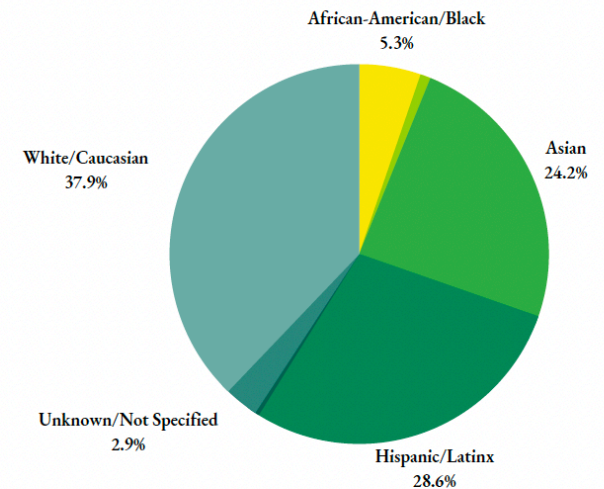

CCS customers that rely on CCS for fresh food

Survey conducted by ENVIS Internship Office

Demographics at CCS

2021/22 UC IRAPS report

- CCS serves a wide demographic which includes a higher percentage of African American and Latinx students than campus population
- Research shows that African American and Latinx students are at a higher risk for food insecurity

- CCS hosts 14-26 Interns per quarter (average 3-6 hours per week)
- CCS employee 14 part time students (work 12 hours per week)
- 9 student employees are funded by the Basic Needs program
- 5 student employees are funded by Innovation and Equity In Mental Health Grants

Food Security + Basic Needs Timeline

UC Regents Report

UC = University of California
CSU = California State University
CCC = California Community Colleges